Granting Guidelines: These guidelines are for Community Support Grants. The geographic area we serve is Starke County and the communities thereof.

Grant making areas of interest are:

- Education • Health • Human Services • Arts & Culture • Environment • Civic • Recreation

The Community Foundation favors activities that:

- Reach a broad segment of the community, especially those citizens whose needs are not being met by existing services that are normally expected to be provided by private rather than government sources
- Request seed money to realize innovative opportunities to meet needs in the community
- Stimulate and encourage additional funding
- Promote cooperation and avoid duplication of effort
- Help make a charitable organization more effective and efficient and better able to be self-sustaining
- One time projects or needs

The Community Foundation places a lower priority on the following:

- Projects where Starke County Community Foundation is the sole funder
- Reduction of debt
- Grants to individuals
- Travel
- Attendance at conferences, seminars or other projects
- Fund-raising projects
- Programs that fall more appropriately under government funding, such as operating expenses for public schools and police or fire protection. (schools should complete a Community Education Grant)

The Foundation will not consider grants for:

- Religious organizations for the sole purpose of furthering that religion (this prohibition does not apply to funds created by donors who have specifically designated religious organizations as beneficiaries of the funds)*
- Political activities or those designated to influence legislation
- National organizations (unless the monies are to be used solely to benefit citizens of Starke County)
- Grants that directly benefit the donor or the donor's family
- Contributions to endowments.* These guidelines are for the competitive Community Support Grants.*

James Hardesty Leadership in Philanthropy Award Nomination Form

The James R. Hardesty Leadership in Philanthropy Award celebrates outstanding achievement by individuals and charitable organizations that serve Starke County, Indiana.

James R. Hardesty's life of giving made a significant impact on the Starke County community in which he lived. Jim's philosophy of giving was stated simply and poignantly; "If you can't do a lot, do what you can." Jim's contributions to the Community Foundation make up the largest to date, from a single donor in any of the three counties that the Northern Indiana Community Foundation serves.

This will be the third year for the annual award that alternates between highlighting the achievements of an outstanding individual philanthropist and an effective and worthwhile organization that makes an impact in the community. The 2018 award will be given to an organization.
