J&J Foundation Scholarship

The J&J Scholarships were created by two retired teachers who wish to remain anonymous. They are designed to reward high school seniors who are people of "great character" and "excellent citizenship". The students must have at least a "C" average in high school.

The scholarships may be used at college, university, or trade school, and recipients may reapply each year for four years after high school graduation for one of the scholarships.

The J and J Non-traditional Scholarships are given to students who have already graduated from High School, but are going on to college, or maybe in in their 2nd year.
